Information on United Nations system technical cooperation expenditures, 2006

Summary

This report presents a summary of technical cooperation expenditure of the United Nations system. In particular, it gives an analysis of technical cooperation provided by UNDP, UNFPA, the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF), the World Food Programme (WFP) and other specialized agencies, funds and programmes.

For the purposes of this report, technical cooperation assistance is the summation of field programme expenditure, which now includes general management service for UNDP but possibly not for other agencies. The World Bank/International Development Association is excluded from this definition of technical cooperation, since its contributions are viewed as free-standing, grant-free assistance aimed at expanding the 'software' aspects of development. The World Bank/IDA does, however, offer a category of assistance specifically geared to backstop its large-scale programmes and projects. A comprehensive breakdown of those programmes and projects is presented in table 23 of the addendum to the present report (DP/2007/42/Add.1).

The analysis provided in this document is based on the data presented in the annex to the present report and in the addendum.

The Executive Board may wish to take note of the present report.

I. Highlights

1. In 2006, technical cooperation between the United Nations system (excluding the World Bank Group) and programme countries was $12.3 billion. This represented a small increase in the level of expenditure over the $12.2 billion expended during the previous year. The summary statistics on technical cooperation expenditure and contributions over the five-year period 2002 to 2006 present a picture of multi-year trends. While specialized agencies, funds and programmes reported a decrease of 7 per cent, from $3.3 billion in 2005 to $3.1 billion in 2006, UNDP reported an increase in delivery from $3.7 billion in 2005 to $4.1 billion in 2006. WFP once again reported a decline in technical assistance delivery of 8 per cent from $2.9 billion in 2005 to $2.7 billion in 2006. Following the peak of $3.3 billion reached in 2003, technical cooperation delivered by WFP contracted in 2004, and that trend has continued. UNICEF reported an increase of 6 per cent, from $1.9 billion in 2005 to $2.1 billion in 2006. UNFPA posted an increase of 1 per cent, from $388.0 million in 2005 to $392.1 million in 2006. An analysis of the 5-year growth of technical cooperation delivered by the agencies, funds and programmes is shown in figures 1 and 2.

2. World Bank/IDA assistance to developing nations in 2006 amounted to $162.3 million. This represented a decrease of 52 per cent over the 2005 figure of $336.6 million. Beginning in 1998, the World Bank/IDA took the decision to stop recording expenditures specifically for technical cooperation activities. Thereafter, summary data submitted represented a combination of loans and grants related to assistance preceding, or combined with, large-scale programmes and projects.

3. Technical cooperation delivery in 2006 was spread over five regions. Africa received $3.5 billion from the total delivered technical assistance of $12.3 billion, equivalent to 27 per cent. The next largest recipient was Asia and the Pacific, which received $2.5 billion or 20 per cent. Arab States accounted for $2.3 billion or 19 per cent, Latin America and the Caribbean received $2.1 billion or 10 percent and Europe received $579 million or 5 per cent. Interregional and global initiatives accounted for the balance of technical cooperation expenditure. Out of the total technical cooperation delivered, WFP reported a 22 per cent share at $2.7 billion, UNICEF provided 16 per cent at $2.1 billion, and UNFPA 3 per cent at $392.1 million. UNDP accounted for $4.1 billion, equivalent to 33 per cent, and the combined balance of the other specialized agencies, funds and programmes was $3.1 billion, equal to approximately 26 per cent of the total.

4. Five countries received approximately 20 per cent of the total pool of United Nations system expenditures in 2006: Sudan – $858.8 million, Brazil – $485.5 million, Afghanistan – $410.6 million, Democratic Republic of Congo – $404.9 million, and Indonesia – $345.6 million. Figure 4 provides a schematic view of the top 15 recipients of United Nations technical cooperation.

5. Significant focus was directed to humanitarian assistance in 2006, as evidenced by the amounts disbursed within this sector. It accounted for $3.1 billion or 25 per cent of total technical assistance delivered. WFP contributed 13 per cent to this sector, with a delivery of $1.7 billion. The health sector was also high on the agenda of technical cooperation, receiving $1.9 billion or 16 per cent. In keeping with its mandate, UNFPA concentrated its activities on population projects and programmes, which totalled $392.1 million in 2006. This was a modest increase of $4.1 million over the 2005 delivery of $388.0 million. Finally, UNDP continued its concentration on general development issues, assigning $941.3 million from its central resources with $431.3 million from its administered funds ($1.4 billion in total).

II. Analysis of technical cooperation by organization

A. Other funds, programmes and specialized agencies

6. Expenditures funded from regular budgets witnessed a decrease in 2006 from $597.0 million in 2005 to $380.3 million or 36 per cent. Additionally, expenditures funded from extra-budgetary sources other than UNDP, UNDP-administered funds, UNFPA, UNICEF and WFP experienced a small decrease of 1 per cent from $2.73 billion in 2005 to $2.71 billion in 2006. Conversely, the specialized agencies, UNFPA and UNICEF, posted increases of 1 per cent and 6 per cent respectively. WFP reported a decrease of 8 per cent.

7. The analysis of the sectoral distribution indicated that humanitarian assistance, health, general development issues and education accounted for 64 per cent, equivalent to $7.9 billion of the aggregate of funds, programmes and specialized agencies development cooperation of $12.3 billion. The sectors obtaining lesser amounts of development assistance were culture with $65.3 million, communications and information with $74 million, energy with $98.9 million and human settlements with $110.5 million.

8. In 2006, Sudan continued to account for the highest proportion of resources delivered by the group of other funds, programmes and specialized agencies. Total technical cooperation delivered was $858.8 million equivalent to 7 per cent. Brazil followed Sudan, receiving a total of $485.5 million or 4 per cent. Afghanistan was also among the top recipients, receiving a total delivered expenditure of $410.6 million, equivalent to 3 per cent. Democratic Republic of Congo was fifth among the highest recipients, with $404.9 million or 3 per cent of total delivered technical assistance.

9. Total contributions received to do the work of delivering technical cooperation to programme varied among several categories within the executing organizations and specialized agencies area, ranging from a 17 per cent increase for NGOs, a 19 per cent decrease for bilateral assistance and a 26 per cent decrease for contributions directed to countries and territories. UNDP saw a small increase in voluntary contributions, rising from $914.5 billion in 2005 to $ 916.3 billion in 2006. UNFPA increased by 9 per cent from $483.8 million in 2005 to $529.1 million in 2006; while UNICEF reported an increase, rising from $2.5 billion in 2005 to $2.7 billion, equivalent of 4 per cent in 2006. WFP increased its contributions from $2.6 billion in 2005 to $2.7 billion in 2006, representing an increase of 7 per cent.

B. United Nations Development Programme

10. UNDP continued its upward trend in total programme delivery across the five-year period 2002 - 2006. Delivery was $1.5 billion in 2002, $1.7 billion in 2003, $2.0 billion in 2004, $2.5 billion in 2005 and finally $2.8 billion in 2006. In comparison to the 26 per cent increase in 2005, the 10 per cent increase in delivery registered in 2006 reflects a downward trend in the growth rate. There was a major shift in the distribution of expenditure emanating from regular and extra-budgetary resources dedicated to technical cooperation. For regular resources, there was a 9 per cent increase in 2006, versus the 17 per cent increase in 2005. Regular technical cooperation expenditure rose from $490.3 million in 2005 to $532.6 million in 2006. Programme expenditure relating to other resources also increased from $3.1 billion in 2005 to $3.4 billion in 2006 (a 10 per cent increase).

11. Contributions to UNDP regular resources recorded a modest increase from $914.5 million in 2005 to $916.3 million in 2006. This represented the smallest increase recorded in the last five years.

C. World Food Programme

12. WFP technical cooperation expenditure showed a further decline in 2006 from $2.9 billion in 2005 to $2.7 billion in 2006 - a reduction of 8 per cent. In 2003, WFP recorded a delivered cooperation expenditure of $3.3 billion. Since then, there has been a steady decline in its delivery of technical cooperation. WPF focused its resources almost entirely on humanitarian assistance. WFP expended $1.7 billion or 63 per cent of its resources in the humanitarian assistance sector. In 2006, five countries in the Africa region accounted for $609.7 million or 23 per cent of WFP delivered technical cooperation. They were as follows: Ethiopia with $194.4 million, Kenya with $153.1 million, Uganda with $103.3 million, Zimbabwe with $98.9 million and Zambia with $60.1 million. The Asia and Pacific region was the next largest region, with Pakistan receiving $113.3 million, Afghanistan $94.9 million, Indonesia $92.0 million and Bangladesh $49.5 million. These countries accounted for 13 per cent or $349.7 million of WFP delivered expenditure.

13. Voluntary contributions made to WFP increased from $2.6 billion in 2005 to $2.7 billion in 2006, an increase of 7 per cent.

D. United Nations Children's Fund

14. UNICEF technical cooperation expenditure grew from $1.9 billion in 2005 to $2.1 billion in 2006, representing an increase of 6 per cent. An analysis of the five-year trend in UNICEF technical cooperation expenditure ranged from $1.0 billion in 2002 to $2.1 billion in 2006. This agency has surpassed the $1 billion level for the fifth consecutive year. UNICEF directed $626.8 million to the humanitarian sector, and 30 per cent of its overall support to development assistance. Significant expenditure was also channelled to health-related activities: $513.1 million or 25 per cent. The three sectors of focus in UNICEF activities in 2006 were general development issues, which attracted $433.5 million, the health sector with $513.1 million, and social development with $125.9 million. These sectors combined accounted for $1.1 billion or 52 per cent of technical assistance recorded in 2006.

15. UNICEF continued to be one of the top donors to Africa and the Asia and Pacific region. Technical cooperation directed by UNICEF to the African region amounted to $862.3 million, equivalent to 42 per cent of total UNICEF delivery. This was followed by the Asia and Pacific region with $656.7 million or 32 per cent of total technical cooperation delivered. These two regions combined received $1.5 billion or 73 per cent of overall assistance. In 2006, Sudan and India received the largest dollar amount of technical assistance: $127 million and $116 million respectively. Other major recipients were Nigeria with $98.7 million, Indonesia with $98.4 million, Pakistan with $97.4 million and Ethiopia with $90.9 million.

16. Total contributions to UNICEF increased slightly by 4 per cent, from $2.5 billion in 2005 to $2.7 billion in 2006.

E. United Nations Population Fund

17. UNFPA technical cooperation expenditure rose by 1 per cent from $388.0 million in 2005 to $392.1 million in 2006. This was a small rise in delivery compared to that of 2005, when total UNFPA technical cooperation delivery rose by 22 per cent compared to the 2004 figure of $317.6 million. The focus of UNFPA attention continued to be on population activities. The regional distribution was as follows: Africa received $120.0 million or 31 per cent, Asia and the Pacific region $103.8 million or 26 per cent, Latin America and the Caribbean $49.0 million or 12 per cent, Arab States $39.8 million or 10 per cent, and Europe $13.2 million or 3 per cent. The highest recipient countries ranged from India with $13.9 million, Peru with $12.7 million and Sudan with $11.3 million, to Indonesia with $10.3 million and Mozambique with $10.1 million.

18. Voluntary contributions to UNFPA activities increased by 9 per cent, rising from $483.8 million in 2005 to $529.1 million in 2006. The growth between 2004 and 2005 was 22 per cent.

F. The World Bank/International Development Association

19. In place of specifically targeted expenditures for technical cooperation activities, the World Bank uses a combination of loans and grants related to assistance preceding, or combined with, large-scale programmes and projects. Funding for these activities is often provided from: (a) learning and innovation loans; (b) technical assistance loans; (c) institutional development funds; and (d) the development grant facility. Total expenditure for 2006 decreased dramatically from $336.6 million in 2005 to $162.3 million 2006, a decline of 52 per cent. In particular, IDA decreased from $266.6 million in 2005 to $71.5 million in 2006.

Note on the data

A. Mandate

1. In its decision 81/34 of 27 June 1981, the Governing Council requested that the Administrator continue to provide data on the magnitude and composition of technical cooperation activities funded by organizations of the United Nations system.

B. Presentation of the data

2. The raw data submitted by United Nations organizations for 2006 were checked for consistency and accuracy prior to processing and presentation in tables 1 through 11. The data contained in these tables are shown at both summary and detailed levels. Tables 1 through 8 provide data on technical cooperation expenditures, while tables 9, 10 and 11 reflect contributions. Tables 12 through 22 contain historical data on both contributions and expenditures since 1981. Data pertinent to the World Bank and IDA data are presented in table 23.

3. Table 1 presents a summary of technical cooperation expenditures by source organizations of the United Nations system, while table 2 presents the same data in the context of the Administrative Committee on Coordination (ACC) programme classification categories or sectors. These tables provide information at the aggregate level.

4. Table 3 presents an overview of the technical cooperation expenditures by executing agencies in the United Nations system. For each United Nations organization, expenditures are broken down according to category: Regular budget (A); United Nations system extra-budgetary sources other than UNDP (B1); non-United Nations system multilateral sources (B2); bilateral sources channelled through the United Nations system (C1); and unilateral 'self-supporting' sources (C2). It should be noted that all expenditures by UNDP, UNICEF and WFP are classified as (B1) expenditures, distributed according to sector. While this may appear to imply that these entities were directly responsible for the implementation of their entire programme, this is not necessarily the case; the aim is simply to preserve tractability and minimize double counting.

5. Tables 4 through 8 provide a detailed analysis of the organization's expenditure categories, regions and recipient countries contained in table 3. Specifically, table 4 breaks down regular budget expenditures as described in (A) above by country and organization. This makes it possible to ascertain the amount of regular budgetary expenditure incurred by a given organization in a given country.

6. Table 5 provides information on the distribution of expenditure of all non-United Nations system multilateral sources (B2), by country and organization. Normally the total in this table agrees with that of line B2 at the end of table 3 and at the extreme right column of the row. However, there may be instances where there is a difference due to reporting anomalies in the presentation and/or interpretation of the data provided by the source organization.

7. Table 6 is identified by (C1) in table 3. It reflects the detailed breakdown by country and organization of bilateral resources channelled to the United Nations executing organizations and specialized agencies. The distribution by country and organization of unilateral expenditure (C2) routed to executing organizations and specialized agencies and back to the contributing countries is shown by the 'self-supporting expenditures' column of table 8; the total of this column is in agreement with the amount reflected in the extreme right column of line (C2) of table 3.

8. Table 9 provides data on extra-budgetary contributions to the executing organizations and specialized agencies, organized under the following headings: unilateral and bilateral sources (country or territory and NGOs) and multilateral sources (United Nations system and non-United Nations system). Contributions received by executing organizations and specialized agencies to fund 'self-supporting' technical cooperation expenditures are presented in table 10.

9. The remaining tables contain historical data with varying time periods between 1981 and 2006. Contributions to and expenditure by UNDP, UNFPA, UNICEF, and WFP from 2002 to 2006 are provided in tables 11 through 15. Technical cooperation expenditure, nominal amounts and rates of growth by the entire United Nations system for the period 1981 to 2006 are found in tables 16 and 17. Tables 18 and 19 reflect historical data on regular and extra-budgetary expenditure by executing organizations and specialized agencies. Tables 20 and 21 provide historical data and rates of growth of extra-budgetary contributions to executing organizations and specialized agencies. Table 22 reports historical summary data on voluntary contributions received by UNDP, UNFPA, UNICEF and WPF. Table 23 reflects 2006 data relating to World Bank and IDA assistance.

C. Caveats

10. Use of the data in the present document may be guided by the application of the following caveats:

(a) Scope. The data on expenditure/contributions refer only to those for technical cooperation. The report defines technical cooperation activities to include the work of UNDP, executing organizations and specialized agencies, UNFPA, UNICEF and WFP.

(b) Expenditure coverage. All expenditure data refer to the field programme activities of the entities concerned. All expenditure data are net of administrative, support and other costs. Expenditure data thus refer to the actual amount of resources directly invested in developmental activities, which are classified here and in document DP/2007/42 as field programme expenditure. The only exception is WHO, whose expenditure is inclusive of those other costs.

(c) The World Bank and the International Development Association (IDA). In 1998 there was a shift in orientation and focus within the World Bank and IDA. These institutions would no longer specifically attempt to capture the technical assistance components of their projects. This decision resulted in the introduction of a new lending instrument: learning and innovations loans (LILs). LILs provide structured support for small, time-sensitive projects. They are often used as companions to structural adjustment loans to address long-term capacity-building issues that are linked to economic policy reform. All data submitted by the World Bank and IDA for 2005 are presented in a separate table (table 23), which is new to this report.

(e) Contributions – Organizations. Data on contributions by United Nations organizations refer to extra-budgetary contributions only; regular budgetary contributions are not included in the report. Based on this premise, contribution data on United Nations organizations must not be equated with income.

(f) Contributions – UNDP and UNFPA. Data on contributions to UNDP and UNFPA refer to voluntary contributions to regular resources only. In the case of UNDP, cost-sharing, contributions to local office costs, government cash counterpart contributions, funds and trust funds, management services agreements and miscellaneous contributions have been excluded from the total. For both entities, voluntary contributions are not the same as total contributions or total income.

(g) Contributions – UNICEF. Contribution data refer to voluntary contributions to regular resources from Governments, the private sector and inter-organizational sources; contributions are not the same as total income.

D. Terminology

11. The utility of the data contained in this addendum can be significantly enhanced through an understanding of the terminology employed. The most important definitions and concepts are given below.

12. Technical cooperation activities. These are activities that aim to promote increasing self-reliance and thus strengthen the conditions necessary for sustainable human development. All United Nations organizations reviewed in the present report (with the exception of the World Bank and the IDA, to some extent) are considered to engage in technical cooperation activities.

13. Regular budget expenditures. These refer to technical cooperation expenditures of executing organizations and specialized agencies financed from assessed budgets (i.e., contributions). Table 4 in the statistical annex contains detailed data on the regular budget expenditures of United Nations organizations. UNDP, UNICEF, UNFPA and WFP do not have regular budget expenditures because contributions are entirely voluntary.

14. Extra-budgetary expenditures. As distinct from regular budget contributions, these refer to expenditures by United Nations organizations financed from voluntary contributions originating from multilateral and bilateral sources.

15. Multilateral. Multilateral sources are divided into: (a) United Nations system (B1); and (b) multilateral sources outside the United Nations system (B2). Total B1 (see table 3) expenditure comprises organization B1 expenditures and rest-of-system B1 expenditures, excluding the World Bank and IDA.

Organization B1 expenditures fund technical cooperation activities from resources available within the United Nations system:. Considerable efforts have been made to avoid the problem of double-counting – counting a payment and/or a receipt twice. Rest-of-system B1 comprises expenditures from UNDP, UNICEF, UNFPA and WFP.

16. Bilateral. Bilateral extra-budgetary expenditures are also grouped into two categories: (a) non-United Nations system sources (C1); and (b) unilateral self-supporting sources. The former comprises expenditures incurred against resources provided directly to a United Nations organization by a Member State or an NGO to fund technical cooperation activities in developing countries. The term 'unilateral' indicates that such expenditures finance activities within the country that made the contribution to the United Nations system. Unilateral expenditures are thus passed from the given country to the United Nations system and back to the same country, having acquired a dual character: unilateral because they return to the contributing country; bilateral because they were routed from a country to the United Nations system.

17. Agency extra-budgetary contributions. These are used to fund extra-budgetary expenditures. Extra-budgetary contributions are voluntary contributions, which may be tied to a specific purpose or geographic location and which are divided in two broad groups: bilateral and multilateral. Bilateral contributions are broken down into: (a) contributions from countries and territories, representing funds donated to the United Nations system to support activities in developing countries; (b) contributions from NGOs to the United Nations system; and (c) unilateral self-supporting contributions, made by a country to finance technical cooperation activities in that country. Multilateral contributions are subdivided into: (a) contributions from the United Nations system and (b) contributions originating outside the United Nations system, made by multilateral organizations that are not part of the United Nations system. Examples of such organizations are the African Development Bank and the Arab Gulf Programme for United Nations Development Organizations.

[b] A - Regular budget
B1 - Funded by United Nations system multilateral sources plus UNFPA, UNICEF, WFP and UNDP (central resources and administered funds)
B2 - Non-United Nations system multilateral sources
C1 - Bilateral resources channelled through the United Nations system
C2 - Unilaterally financed "self-supporting" expenditures

[c] Sectoral breakdowns were not available for amounts under "Others".

[d] Includes DESA and DESAFA.

[e] The data provided by UNESCO under "Regular budget (category "A")" represent expenditures incurred under that organization's participation programme.

[f] Including support costs.

Note: This table is an overall summary of technical cooperation expenditures of the United Nations system. The first two columns on the left show the executing agency and the category of expenditures; the other columns show the sectoral distribution of expenditures. The purpose of the table is to identify the executing agency and the amount, by sector, of technical cooperation expenditure for which each agency was directly responsible/implemented.
Source of funds category "A" corresponds to the "Funded by regular budgets" column of tables 1 and 2, while B1+B2+C1+C2 correspond to the "Funded by extrabudgetary sources other than UNDP and UNDP-administered funds".
UNFPA, UNICEF and WFP column of tables 1 and 2 plus the columns of "UNFPA" "UNICEF and WFP" and "UNDP (central resources)" and "UNDP administered funds". For a more detailed breakdown of each budget source, see tables 4 through 7, and the "Self-supporting expenditures" column of table 8. See notes at the end of those tables for further explanation.
Since total B1 of this table comprises agency expenditures funded from other multilateral sources plus those of UNFPA, UNICEF, WFP and UNDP (central resources and administered funds), then agency B1 expenditure is equal to total B1 (UNFPA+UNICEF+WFP+UNDP(central resources and administered funds)). Total agency multilateral expenditure is then equal to total B1 (UNFPA+UNICEF+WFP+UNDP(central resources and administered funds)) + B2.
Total multilateral expenditure from United Nations system sources, including agency multilateral expenditures, is equal to total B1+B2 of table 1.

a/ This table gives a detailed breakdown of total B1 expenditures as given in table 3 of this annex.
b/ Expenditures do not include overhead paid to executing agencies.
c/ Includes UNIDO, UNCDF and UNIFEM. UNOPS, NGO and NEX report 275, 196 and 5 426 for operations under the Bratislava Regional Center.
d/ This column comprises data for which a detailed breakdown is not available or the available data do not warrant a separate column. Total = B1Agency (Others) + UNDP Administered Funds (Others) = 28.8 + 26 692 = 26 713.
e/ UNCTAD, NGOs, UNFPA, UNICEF, WFP, UNIDO and WHO reported this amount with no further breakdown. UNDP reported this amount for expenditure in Kosovo.
f/ UNFPA reported rounding of (1.0) as per their communication of 20 April07.
g/ The significant increase in expenditure is a direct result of the amount spent from UNDG ITF contributions received in 2005 and 2006.
h/ ICAO reported a 56% decrease in expenditure due to down-sized operations in Afghanistan, DRC, and UNMIK Kosovo.

a/ The figures in this table have been rounded and may not agree exactly with those of the other tables in this and previous reports.
b/ WFP reported revised expenditure figures for 1996, 1997, 1998, 1999 and 2000 and 2001.
c/ Although 2003 World Bank data is not representative of technical cooperation per se, it is nevertheless included in this table. For 2006 only amount pertinent to World Bank and IDA lending instruments are captured in this report. Grants equivalent to 192,662 are excluded. See note below.
d/ "Total United Nations system (1)" includes the World Bank and IDA; "Total United Nations system (2)" excludes the World Bank and IDA.

Note: Beginning 1998, the World Bank/IDA does not report technical cooperation expenditure (see "Note on the data" for explanation). This caveat should be borne in mind when using the amounts reported in the column "Total United Nations system (1)" after 1998.

a/ The figures in this table have been rounded and may not agree exactly with those of the other tables in this and previous reports.

b/ Please note that the growth of nominal technical cooperation expenditure in 2003 could not be computed for the World Bank and IDA, as no data was submitted for 2001 and 2002.

c/ "Total United Nations system (1)" includes the World Bank and IDA; "Total United Nations system (2)" excludes the World Bank and IDA.

Note: Beginning 1998, the World Bank/IDA does not report technical cooperation expenditure (see "Note on the data" for explanation). This caveat should be borne in mind when using the amounts reported in the column "Total United Nations system (1)" after 1998.

d/ For 2006 computation of percentages for World Bank and IDA percentage is not included due to the lack of same in the prior years.
